I'm enjoying thinking about the Fruit of the Spirit as I plan the themes for the next few Sunday mornings. Many of those Christian virtues, as they've often been called, have had a large quantity of hymns, songs, poetry, drama and whole books written about them. Some of those things will no doubt come to light as we explore the subjects Sunday by Sunday. The one we looked at last week, love, is of course the one that has probably had more written about it than any of the others, and I can't guarantee being able to dig out an old action song for all age worship on each one. That may be a relief to some of you! Nevertheless, I am confident that there will be plenty of interest to be found around each of the items considered – and of course, if you are able to come up with any requests or suggestions for any of the themes, please do let me have them. So, if we're going back to our moral roots on Sunday mornings, the evening services will be an opportunity to look again at the great story of the people of Israel and their Exodus from Egypt. That too is about our roots. The faith and history of Israel is all very much a part of our story too, and looking back at those great events gives us an excellent opportunity to reflect on our faith and the challenges it presents to us. I'm confident that the times we spend together in worship will be a great encouragement to me – and I hope also to you. And, if you're going away over the Summer, have a really blessed and restful time.

Take care,

Brian News Around The Pews

We now have details of Annie Bedford's funeral service on Monday 11th July, sent by her granddaughter, Rebekah Butler. The committal at Eastbourne Crematorium will be at 1.30 pm followed at 2.30 pm by the funeral service in Beulah Baptist Church, Bexhill-on-Sea. Brian has more details. It is likely that we will be planning a

We offer our warmest congratulations to Steve Green who has passed his final exams in Professional Therapy Training and received his degree yesterday. Well done Steve!
