

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES

Rachel Gregory

A winner herself of over one hundred classes in competitive music festivals, Rachel Gregory studied recorder, viol and harpsichord, subsequently obtaining the Fellowship Diploma of Trinity College of Music, London.

She is on the visiting panel of conductors of the Society of Recorder Players and has served on the National Committee.

She performs regularly, both as soloist and with the Dolmetsch Concertante and, as well as making recordings, has broadcast on radio and television.

In addition to teaching, which includes teaching privately, at Summer Schools, weekend courses and one day workshops, she is increasingly in demand as an adjudicator.